

The lamps are very well balanced in the way the eye travels from the base to the shade by keeping the same color flowing throughout the piece. It reaches to its audience by being simple and serving its purpose effectively.

Design balances all aspects of its form to engage the audience and to serve a function.

